

Alexander's Completes Restructuring of Retail Loan at 731 Lexington Avenue

December 29, 2025

PARAMUS, N.J., Dec. 29, 2025 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Alexander's, Inc. (NYSE: ALX) today announced that it has restructured the $300 million mortgage loan on the retail condominium of 731 Lexington Avenue in Manhattan. Under the terms of the restructuring, the existing loan was split into a $132.5 million senior "A-Note" accruing current interest at 7.00% per annum and a $167.5 million junior "C-Note" accruing interest at 4.55% per annum, with a new maturity date of December 23, 2035.

At the closing of the restructuring, an affiliate of Alexander's purchased the $132.5 million senior A-Note from the existing lenders at par. The Alexander's affiliate also entered into a new "B-Note" with the borrower, pursuant to which funds that are loaned to the borrower, for capital and re-leasing expenses, and to fund interest on the A-Note, accrue interest at 13.5% per annum, except for loan amounts above $65 million used to pay interest on the A-Note, which accrue at 7.00%.

Additional information regarding the terms of the restructuring and the payment waterfall can be found in the Current Report on Form 8-K filed today by Alexander's, available at <https://www.alx-inc.com/financial-information/sec-filings>.

Alexander's, Inc. is a real estate investment trust that has five properties in New York City.
